THE NEW COMPANY

To Take Charge of the Central Glass Works Starts.

THE CHARTER WAS APPLIED FOR

Yesterday After a Preliminary Meeting, and Work will be Begun at Once Preparing to Make Glass—It will be Some Time Before Ware is Ready for the Market—The Need of Natural Gas There. A Movement is Also on Foot to Buy Back the Hobbs Factory from the United States Glass Company.

It will necessarily be some little time before the Central glass works, as re-organized, can begin to make glass for the market, but considering the people who are in the organization it is safe to predict that when its ware is ready for the market the market will be ready for it. The first steps toward a resumption of work will be the cleaning of the boilers and the painting out of the sign, "U. S. Glass Company—Factory O," which will be substituted the old familiar legend, "Central Glass Works." The assurance that the purchase of the factory by a local company and its early resumption was beyond doubt caused more rejoicing in Wheeling than anything that has happened for years. The restoration of the glass industry here, of which this is the start, means a wonderful increase in prosperity, and all citizens realize this.

Yesterday the stockholders of the new company met and formed a preliminary organization. Hon. N. B. Scott, Messrs. P. B. Dobbins, Peter Cassell, L. F. Stifel and Joseph Speidel were chosen as incorporators, and at once signed the application for a charter and it was forwarded to Charleston. Until it arrives and the formal organization under it take place the incorporators will have charge of affairs.

Messrs. Speidel and Dobbins were appointed a committee to take charge of the matter of stock subscriptions. It was decided to call in 25 per cent of the stock by noon of Saturday. All certificates of subscription will be found on another page. 25 per cent will be due February 6, and an equal amount March 6 and April 6.

The entire $125,000 of the capital stock has been subscribed, and hereafter no stock can be obtained except at a premium of 5 per cent. One stockholder yesterday refused this premium for a block of stock.

The main reason for delay in getting to work is that the mold makers are nearly all employed at other factories, where they have to give notice before they can leave. Of course no ware can be made until the mold makers can prepare the molds, and this will require several weeks. No time will be lost unnecessarily, however, in getting the product of the rehabilitated Central on the market.

THE HOBBS TO BE NEXT.

The Other Old Factory to be Bought from the United States Company.

The announcement had scarcely been made public that the Central factory had been sold to Wheeling people again by the U. S. Company than a movement was started to purchase back the old Hobbs factory also. The men at the head of this project are as much in earnest as the ones who pushed the revived Central company to success, and the movement gives every promise of success. The opinion is expressed by those in a position to know that the Hobbs factory can be secured on even more favorable terms than the Central was, and the latter factory at the price it was recovered for Wheeling was considered very low. It looks as if Wheeling might at an early day regain her old prestige as a glass manufacturing center.

NATURAL GAS A NECESSITY.

Those Interested in the Central Works Say They Must Have It.

Of all the people outside of those directly interested in the Natural Gas Company of West Virginia perhaps none feel a livelier interest in the proposal to allow that company to increase the price of natural gas to 15 cents a thousand cubic feet, net, than the glass makers. The cost of going back to the revival of the Central factory. Last night Mr. Scott was seen by an Intelligencer reporter, and asked if the continuance of the gas supply was an important matter to the new company.

"Why, it would be a calamity if we could not get natural gas," said he. "In the 'glory days' it is especially important. The cost of going back to the old benzine process would be so great that it would almost be prohibitive, so far as competition with other points is concerned. It is also very important for the lehrs. When we entered on the last effort to secure the Central the manager of the company, Mr. Heard, agreed to do anything in his power to further the project. When the ordinance allowing an increase of three cents a thousand feet was turned down by council, however, he told us he was sorry, but it would be impracticable for the company to make any steps to secure an increased supply of gas at the old rates."

It is understood that the gas company has in view a source of supply near Cameron, which will require but about eight miles of new mains to their present lines. They feel, however, that the extra expense would not be justified when there is a chance always of failure to secure the gas, unless they can be allowed to get enough money for their product to assure at least a reasonable profit. The members of the new glass company all seem enthusiastically in favor of allowing the gas people to make the small advance requested, so that ample fuel may be reasonably assured for the factory at a price which will enable the Central to compete with other factories.

THE QUARANTINE LIFTED

At Martin's Ferry—A Very Lively Meeting There Yesterday.

Wheeling is no longer quarantined by Martin's Ferry. The forty-eight hour interdiction was raised yesterday by the Martin's Ferry board of health, which held an exceedingly lively meeting. That body also decided to lift the quarantine against Bridgeport. Roger Reese resigned and his resignation was followed by those of John Frazier and William Hilton. Several new sanitary resolutions were passed.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Westwood. Much time was spent in the adoption of a new set of resolutions prepared by City Solicitor W. T. Dixon, so as to give the mayor the authority to turn over the fines to the city instead of the state. Mr. Dixon stated that none of the resolutions previously passed were worth the paper on which they were written, that there was no law to work on and that the board recently had an example of this, referring to the Hervey case.

The resolutions specify that school teachers, superintendents, trustees and others connected with public and private schools, will not be allowed to permit pupils to enter said schools unless successfully vaccinated every five years. One section makes it unlawful for physicians to attend cases of smallpox, diphtheria, and scarlet fever without wearing a gum suit. Another says that no person shall remain in, enter or depart from any house where any one is sick with smallpox or other dangerous diseases.

Dr. Blackford stated that if the rules passed are enforced, there will not be any more smallpox in Martin's Ferry.

W. L. Giesner, of the Laughlin Nail Company, appeared and asked for a pass for himself, F. M. Strong and Walker Sweeney, all of the office force.

E. C. Boyd moved that the application be granted. The motion was seconded by Lee Woods. Roger Reese stated that no partiality should be shown, that the board had taken up the pass of Mr. Caldwell, of the Aetna-Standard, that the Wheeling papers had been calling the action of the board only child's play, and they are right, and that only last Wednesday the board had granted a pass to Rev. Mr. Lewis to marry a couple in a quarantined house in Aetnaville where there had recently been a death from smallpox, and that was worse than child's play.

Mr. Frazier said the board could not establish a quarantine and issue passes. Mr. Hilton took the same stand.

This broke the camel's back and there was talk of raising the quarantine against Wheeling.

Henry C. Myers asked for a pass for William McCann and himself, in order to continue their duties at the Martin's Ferry blast furnace. The vote on this also resulted in a tie and the chairman voted in favor of the passes.

Mr. Hilton moved to raise the quarantine on Wheeling, to take effect at 6 o'clock, and Mr. Reese seconded the motion. All voted in favor of it except Mr. Westwood.

Mr. Reese made a motion to lift the Bridgeport quarantine at the same hour, and Mr. Wood quickly seconded this. Mr. Copham asked to amend the motion if Bridgeport would do likewise, and Mr. Boyd seconded the amendment. The vote was 4 to 3. For the original motion all voted in the affirmative except Messrs. Reese and Westwood.

Mayor Westwood said he was under no obligations to Wheeling or Bridgeport and added that he voted for the Laughlin mill and blast furnace because they were home industries.

A pass was granted to Mrs. J. M. Turner, permitting her to come from Bridgeport, and one to Ambrose Thomas, a colored man, for his wife to come from Washington, Pa.

Applications were made for other passes. This motion was not seconded and Mr. Boyd moved to adjourn. His motion was seconded and this made Mr. Reese very angry. He denounced the discrimination in very strong terms and said it was no wonder that the Wheeling papers roasted the board, that the board deserved it, and that he would have nothing further to do with it and he wished the board would accept his resignation then and there. Messrs. Hilton and Frazier also tendered their resignations before leaving the room, all to take effect as soon as the city council meets and acts upon them.

Yesterday, the railroad agents and Captain Crookard, of the wharfbait, were notified by the Bellaire, Zanesville & Cincinnati Railroad Company that quarantine had been established at Louisville and Beallsville, Ohio, on the line of that road, against Wheeling, Benwood, McMechen, Martin's Ferry and Bridgeport. This is in line with the shly action of other Ohio towns in as much as it refers to Wheeling and the two other West Virginia towns.

Last night at a meeting of the Bridgeport board of health a committee was appointed to confer with the board of health of Martin's Ferry and with Dr. Jepson, the Wheeling health officer, with reference to a speedy raising of the quarantines existing between Wheeling and Martin's Ferry, and Bridgeport and Martin's Ferry.

DIED IN THE STABLE.

A Well Known Resident of This County Met Death Suddenly.

Word was received in the city yesterday of the death of Edward McCausland, an aged and highly respected citizen of Ohio county. He lived about three miles from Honey's Point, on the West Union road. Yesterday morning early he went to the stable to feed his horses, as usual, and as he did not return for some time search was made for him, and his body was found in one of the stalls. Heart disease, due to his age, is ascribed as the cause of his death. He was about seventy-seven years of age and leaves a family, all grown.

In Olden Times.

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well informed people will not buy any other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.
